Additional advising considerations:

The field of child life is now becoming more competitive - some internship sites may require you to first take a practicum (which is like an intense job shadowing experience usually for 75 to 100 hours)

You may want to do this, even though it is not required to be certified

Getting volunteer experience in the medical field as soon as possible also makes you much more competitive for internships and opens doors for future jobs.

Please Note: Aquinas College reserves the right to change, modify or amend the above-stated requirements and/or courses in its sole discretion and without prior notice.
