

CHARITY LACROSSE CAMP

Aquinas College, Notre Dame, and West Point Lacrosse
join together to offer a

Boy's and Girl's Lacrosse Camp

at

Aquinas College

in

Grand Rapids, MI

June 28, 29, & 30, 2010

Ages 10-14

Boy's 9 am – 1pm

Girl's 1 pm – 5pm

$125 for 3 Days of learning and giving back as proceeds go to support the:

CONDUCTIVE LEARNING CENTER

In response to parent demand for a comprehensive, proven approach to learning and development for children with motor challenges, the Conductive Learning Center (CLC) was established by Aquinas College in 1998. While still associated with Aquinas College, the Conductive Learning Center is a financially independent, private, not-for-profit organization. The CLC offers programs for children from infancy to adolescence. The goal of the program is to help children with cerebral palsy, spina bifida and other motor challenges become as independent as possible.

For more information on the CLC please visit:

<http://www.conductivelearningcenter.org>

Aquinas College will be hosting a lacrosse camp in collaboration with players and staff from the University of Notre Dame and Army lacrosse programs. The Fighting Irish and USMA Cadets will be teaming up with the Aquinas Saints to offer a great week of fun and lacrosse instruction all benefiting a great cause.

For more information on the camp or to print a registration form please visit:

<http://www.aquinas.edu/athletics/>