"Being in Germany was very valuable to me. I was being taught by native German teachers and was able to build up my understanding of the German language. What was perhaps more valuable to me was my experience throughout Germany and Europe. I stayed with a host family while in Germany and staying with them was something that I am very glad I chose to do. Staying with a host family allowed me to experience what it was like to live like a native German does. My host family was very accommodating and spoke German with me and helped me to improve the way that I spoke.."
