

Sex Offender Registration

The federal Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act, enacted on October 28, 2000, requires institutions of higher education to issue a statement advising the campus community where law enforcement agency information provided by a State concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained. It also requires sex offenders already required to register in a State to provide notice, as required under State law, of each institution of higher education in that State at which the person is employed, carries on a vocation, volunteers services or is a student.

In Michigan, convicted sex offenders must register with the Michigan State Police Public Sex Offender Registry. You can link to this information, which appears on Michigan State Police website, by accessing their website at the Michigan Sex offender registry.

In addition to the Michigan Sex offender registry Aquinas College offers the following link for National Sex Offender Information: National Sex Offender Registry

These Websites are provided as a public service by the U.S. Department of Justice ("the Department") and the Michigan State Police. Using these Websites, interested members of the public have access to and may search participating Jurisdiction Website public information regarding the presence or location of offenders who, in most cases, have been convicted of sexually violent offenses against adults and children and certain sexual contact and other crimes against victims who are minors. The public can use this Website to educate themselves about the possible presence of such offenders in their local communities.

It is possible that information accessed or obtained through these Websites may not reflect current residences, employment, school attendance, or other information regarding such individuals, and users are forewarned that it is incumbent upon them to verify information. Any user seeking more information or verification should communicate with the responsible Jurisdiction agency and/or the local law enforcement agency where the offender resides, works, or attends school, as appropriate. Any individual who believes that information contained in a Jurisdiction Website is not accurate should communicate with the agency responsible for compiling and updating the information with respect to that Jurisdiction Website.

Any person who uses information contained in or accessed through this Website to threaten, intimidate, or harass any individual, including registrants or family members, or who otherwise misuses this information may be subject to criminal prosecution or civil liability under federal and/or state law. Users are urged to read and review the Department's information collection and privacy/confidentiality policies before using these Websites. Users are cautioned that Jurisdictions participating in this Website have their own information collection and privacy/confidentiality policies, as well as policies/disclaimers/terms and conditions for access to information contained in Jurisdiction sex offender Websites that they may wish to review.