Salamanca is a truly magical place and home to some of the nicest people you will ever meet. Spain has such a rich history and every day is a new adventure. There are so many places to explore and things to do that boredom will cease to exist. The professors are very knowledgeable and make learning exciting and fun. I’ve formed life-long friendships with my international classmates, most of which understand very little or no English. If I had the opportunity to hop on a plane tomorrow and go back to Spain, I would in a heartbeat.”

“Salamanca is a place filled with beauty, history, and people. The memories I made there and the people that I met are things that I will never forget. My host family, my professors, and my friends from all over the world truly helped make Salamanca my home away from home. No matter what happens in my life, Salamanca will always hold a very special (very large) place in my heart.”
